

C. & O. CLERKS ARE CALLED TO STRIKE THURSDAY MORNING

Head of Clerks' Brotherhood Calls Out All Union Clerks on C. & O. System at 10 O'Clock Thursday.

Richmond, Va., July 18. — An order was issued today by H. J. Osborn, General Chairman of the Brotherhood of Railway Clerks, calling the members of the Chesapeake & Ohio System out on a strike. The order is effective Thursday morning at 10 o'clock Eastern Standard time. The strike order, it is said, will affect approximately 3,000 clerks on the entire system of the Chesapeake & Ohio.

This order affects Maysville more than any strike order yet issued. In fact, this is the first time that the railroad strike in all of its phases has struck at the railroad traffic in our city. In the call-out of shop men only two or three men at this point were affected and their work is being done by others without much notice.

The strike of the clerks will, however, greatly upset affairs at the local C. & O. station. There are about twelve clerks in all employed here and all of the men are members of the Clerks' Brotherhood, which means that they will lay down their pens and pencils at 10 o'clock Thursday morning unless the strike order is recalled.

All farmers in Mason county are invited to attend the meeting of the Farmers Union in the court house at Maysville at 2 o'clock next Saturday afternoon.

Reports will be made at this meeting of the progress being made in the signing of the poultry and creamery contracts now being signed by the Farmers of Mason county.

If the present rate of signing continues in Mason county ninety per cent. of the cows and hens will be signed up instead of the sixty per cent. originally planned for.

Mason county is the key county of the district and success here means success for the farmers in the surrounding counties.

Elmer G. Downing, president of the county union will preside at the meeting.

Every progressive farmer of Mason county whether a farmers union member or not is expected to be at this meeting Saturday.

Maxwell Falke, of Cincinnati, is the guest of his aunt, Mrs. D. H. Harrison, and family, of East Second street.

DISCUSS RELIGION? NO! AUTOS' HIS HOBBY!

Director of Wallace Reid has Queer Experience While Filming "Rent Free."

You never can tell! Howard Higgin, director of "Rent Free," a Paramount picture starring Wallace Reid, which will be the feature at the Washington Theater Thursday, was seeking color for a character to be played by Lucien Littlefield in the picture—one of those itinerant characters who tacks signs on the fences such as "Are You Ready?" "Can You Face Eternity?" and the like.

Driving down Cahuenga Pass the other day, he saw one of the sort walking along and offered him a lift. The traveler thanked him and climbed in. He had a long red beard and his attire was of the nature-man type.

"All the way to town," said Higgin, "I tried my best to get him to talk about his religious convictions and his work, but all he would discuss were automobiles. He had owned two big cars and now drove a small machine. The relative merits of their internal mechanism, rather than the workings of his soul, were discussed with great avidity, but not a word on religion! You never can tell. I suppose if I'd picked up a millionaire tourist he would have talked salvation and exhorted me to care for my soul."

Mann Page and Izola Forrester Page wrote "Rent Free" which was adapted by Elmer Rice, Lila Lee, Henry Barrows, Gertrude Short, Lillian Leighton, Clarence Geldart, Claire McDowell and Lucien Littlefield are in the cast.

RUGGLES CAMPMEETING BOARD IS READY FOR THE OPENING

Famous Old Campmeeting Will Begin Its Annual Meeting One Week From Thursday—Program Greatest Yet.

One week from Thursday — July 27 — the forty-ninth session of Ruggles Campmeeting will begin. For nigh onto the half-century mark this justly famous campmeeting has had a series of campmeeting services each year with increased success from the very beginning. From a few cottages erected mainly by Maysville Methodists the camp has grown until last year over five hundred campers were sheltered for the eleven days of campmeeting services. For a number of years cottage room has been at a premium. Many applications have been turned down each year for lack of accommodations. The association with its Board of Directors has ever conducted the campmeeting with the one ideal before them — to give those who attend a delightful place to camp and with such religious services as would contribute to the spiritual good of all.

That this ideal has been met can be testified to by hundreds. Ruggles Campgrounds is the one "dearest spot of earth" to many, many hundreds who there have found great spiritual blessings. Once again the hosts of campers have begun to wend their way to the old campgrounds. Many are already there. After next Sunday the roads to the camp will be full of campers with their camping outfits. They will find everything in readiness for a great campmeeting. Never before has the board secured such a splendid line of talent. From the first day until the first Sunday services will be conducted as in past years. For the first Sunday Dr. Miller who made such a favorable impression two years ago and for whom there has been many requests since, will be present for at least two big sermons. This should insure the biggest first Sunday crowd on record. Then on Monday begins the Epworth League Institute. And if it is anything like other institutes held all over our country in recent years, Ruggles campers are in for the biggest time spiritually, mentally, socially and well in every way one can think of to enjoy themselves in the right way.

Bishop Anderson is to be one of the high lights of the institute week. He will be present Wednesday and will likely give an address in the evening. One evening during institute week will be given to W. E. Bancroft, director of pageantry who will give the pageant "The Mass Movement in India."

Other evenings will be given for big special features all of which is to culminate the last two days in the dedication of many young lives to the Master's service. Those who expect to camp should go out in time to have all preliminary work out of the way before the services begin so that every moment may be spent in the services of the campmeeting.

OPEN-AIR UNION CHURCH SERVICES ARE POPULAR

Great Audiences Hear Sermons at the Court House Lawn—Rev. Mullen to Preach Next Sunday Night.

The move of the churches to hold their union evening services in the open on the court house lawn this summer is proving the most satisfactory of any such services in many years. The hundreds who are attending are realizing how pleasant it is to attend church under such favorable conditions. One can hear expressions of approval on all sides and the pastor's union with the co-operating laymen are to be commended for this forward move.

More than five hundred people of all denominations are hearing the gospel in sermon and song at each service. The sermon for next Sunday evening will be preached by Rev. GOVERNMENT THROWS FULL STRENGTH BEHIND COAL DIGGING

President Harding Calls on Governors of Coal Producing States to Provide Protection at Mines To Be Operated.

Washington, July 19. — The government embarked today on a test of strength with 600,000 striking coal miners.

In directing governors of the 28 coal producing states to protect the mines of all operators willing to resume coal production, President Harding threw down the gauntlet of battle to the United Mineworkers of America, probably the most powerful body of organized workers in the country.

Should the president's move fail to increase coal production within a short time, there will be only one course open to the government—seizure and operation of the mines.

In his call upon the 28 governors, Harding in effect ordered the mobilization of more than 1,000,000 armed men on the side of the public, it was estimated.

The governors can call first on local authorities, such as the police and deputy sheriffs, to provide protection.

If these forces prove insufficient, the national guard is to be mobilized. If guardsmen prove ineffective, federal troops will be sent to their assistance.

Should the trouble go beyond control of these forces the government will induce the national guards of non-coal producing states into federal service and detail them to duty in the coal producing states.

In Illinois and Indiana, two of the states to which the president addressed his appeal, declaration of martial law became an immediate possibility.

FLEMING COUNTY MAN DIES FROM ACCIDENTAL SHOT

Estill Smalley Dies From Rifle Wound Accidentally Inflicted By Companion at Target Practice.

Estill Smalley, a young man living at the head of Anderson Branch in the eastern part of Fleming county, died at his home on Sunday afternoon as a result of a gun shot wound inflicted accidentally by Otha Gulley while the two men were at target practice on Saturday about noon.

It appears that the two young men were shooting at a mark with a rifle. Smalley had just handed the rifle to Gulley who raised it with the end of the barrel pointing in Smalley's direction. In some manner the weapon was accidentally discharged and the bullet entered Smalley's abdomen and punctured his bowels. He was immediately removed to his home and medical aid called but the bullet wound at first appeared to be fatal and he died Sunday.

Young Smalley's funeral was held Tuesday and burial made at his home.

IMPORTANT SERIES OF BALL GAMES TO OPEN THURSDAY

Great Interest Is Taken in Thursday and Saturday and Sunday's Games At Forest Avenue Park Here.

Thursday's game with Mt. Sterling and Saturday's and Sunday's games with the Paris Mammoths are of much concern to the Cardinals who are now resting in second place for the first time this season but are within one game of the league leaders and but a single game ahead of two teams, Lexington and Cynthiana, who are tied for third place.

In order to be in striking distance of the Paris Mammoths when they play here Saturday and Sunday and to wrest the coveted position from them it is necessary to check the Essex team on Thursday. Shaw will probably get the call for Thursday's game and Einemann and Bosken go in against Paris in their two game series at the Cardinal's Park on Forest avenue. Play in all games will be at 3 o'clock.

By the terms of the will, the deceased's personal and real estate is bequeathed to her granddaughter, Mrs. Della Hutchins, of this city.

J. J. Perrine, named in the will as the executor thereof, appeared in court and qualified as such without surety as requested in the will.
